

Host a Peacemaker Training!

Why not bring the training to you? Peacemaker Ministries (PMM) is looking for churches to host trainings. By hosting a training you open up the opportunity for people on your team, church, and surrounding community to become better equipped to help others reconcile conflicts within the body of Christ.

Advertising for Training

PMM relies heavily on hosts to publicize trainings within their direct community. People are more motivated to attend trainings when they have a relationship with someone who is passionate about peacemaking. The goal of this training is not just to equip your team or church but to also equip surrounding churches. This is a great way to develop and grow a peacemaking network.

Benefits

Your church and peacemaking team will have the benefit of staying at home, instead of traveling to a different location in the country. Hosts have the opportunity to help spread the gospel of peacemaking within their community, connect with other peacemakers, and develop stronger relationships within a congregation and with other churches. Hosting a training can also increase the credibility of a peacemaking team.
